Title : Best out of Waste

Date: 30-10-2025

Time: 10.30 am to 12.00 pm

Sustainable Development Goals: 15. Life on Land

This Do it Yourself Natural Product contest focused on:

The ECO Club of R.M.D. Engineering College organized a Do it Yourself Natural Product Contest on 30th October 2025 with the objective of promoting sustainable living and encouraging the use of eco-friendly, chemical-free alternatives in daily life.

The event aimed to create awareness about the harmful effects of synthetic and chemical-based products on human health and the environment. Students actively participated by preparing a variety of natural products such as herbal soaps, organic face packs, natural cleaners, biodegradable personal care items, and eco-friendly home products using easily available natural ingredients.

Participants demonstrated creativity and innovation by incorporating traditional knowledge with modern sustainable practices. The contest emphasized the importance of reducing dependency on commercially manufactured products and encouraged the adoption of safe, biodegradable, and environmentally responsible alternatives.
